The Waiting Room Function

Before exam start

To ensure a good test experience, students who click on a test 30 minutes (or later) before the test starts, will have access to a so-called waiting room.

The waiting room is an information site showing that the student has logged in. A timer will show a countdown to exam start. Access to the exam will automatically happen, when time for exam start is reached.

This function has only been established for two types of exams: Exams with invigilation and Exams without invigilation, both with submitting to Digital Exam and is only available for individual hand-ins.

‘Waiting Room’ is not select during the exam setup, but is an integrated part of the above mentioned types of exams with individual hand-in.
